FLAVOR OF THE MONTH JUNE
Strawberry

We consumed eight quarts at our son's graduation, but that was only because we had a chocolate fountain. The strawberries were the California variety—large, firm, a bright red color. The one thing missing was that sweet flavor, and the chocolate cured that issue. Local berries, however do not need a helper like chocolate. They taste great, all on their own. Sweet and not as firm (because they're so juicy), they quickly become our favorite fruit for their short season in June. Fresh strawberries with Mudd Valley ice cream ranks in my Top 10. But the ice cream isn't to mask a missing quality in our local strawberries. Instead, it's the strawberry helping out the ice cream.
