FLAVOR OF THE MONTH NOVEMBER
Peanut Butter

Halo, the golden ring of radiant light often depicted above the heads of angels and saints, derives from the Greek word for a threshing floor. Oxen walked round and round in a continuous circle to separate the wheat from the chaff, and the groove the oxen wore in those floors was the orb we associate with halos. The folks who grow and harvest the Halos brand mandarins in California chose the name "Halos" because of the pure goodness of the product. Not every mandarin can be a Halo. Only those fruits that are easy to peel, seedless, and super sweet earn their halos. A perfect snack. Heavenly, or just groovy?
